

Flexibility to make major changes in the middle of a project

Careful planning is essential to keeping costs down and maintaining brand continuity. However, when plan alterations happen Mr. Signs has the ability and experience to easily adapt to changes in program specs.

During one roll-out a customer opted for more visually appealing photo panels instead of the originally approved wallpaper treatment. Mr. Signs promptly made the change for the first and remaining locations, accommodating the customer's request.

Here is an email describing appreciation for all of Mr. Signs' hard work and excellent communication skills. The email reflects our dedication to the job and flexibility to deal with new aspects of sign installation.

"Some great feedback. Thanks for all of your hard work down there. I know it isn't easy! Dave and Carl, thanks for handling the communications on these jobs. Again, it's a lot of work, and it's greatly appreciated. Joe and Mark and the rest of the gang, per usual, thanks for taking on this 'new' territory and working so hard (and well) at it! Thanks again all."
